

IWP Summer Workshop--Teaching Writing

Mondays through Fridays, July 10-14, 2017, 8:30-2:30
Conveniently located at Westmont High School, Westmont, IL

Why Give up a Precious Week of Summer?

As good teachers, we all care deeply about providing the best literacy instruction for our students. With the new emphasis on writing in our schools, and the introduction of writing workshop into the curriculum, many teachers are wondering just how to proceed. The teacher-leaders of IWP have extensive experience helping colleagues adopt and refine writing workshop and can provide many effective strategies and teaching ideas.

Who's Invited?

This program is designed for classroom teachers, support staff and school literacy leaders of all grade levels, and will be led by an experienced IWP teacher/leader.

Topics Covered

- Engaging and practical strategies for teaching writing that you can begin on Day 1
- Balancing in-depth learning in the writing curriculum with standardized test expectations
- Setting up, conducting and managing writing workshop to build strong and successful writers
- Energizing renewal for ourselves as we work with like-minded, committed professionals from all grade levels

Cost & Credit

$275 per teacher. 30 hours ISBE credit will be provided for those who complete the course. Also available optionally: 2 semester hours graduate credit from Northeastern Illinois University.

Please complete the attached registration form and mail, with a $50 registration fee (counts toward the $275 participation fee), to Steve Zemelman (See registration form for address). Or register and pay fee online through our website.
